ROCK GARDENS

We will build a complete Rock Garden for $25.00

This includes stones and plants as well as designing and necessary labor

Chart showing depth and distance apart at which the different types of bulbs should be planted

Vigoro should be applied to the soil when the bulbs are planted in the Fall. This insures a good root development and better matured bulbs for the next year's bloom. 2 lbs. to every 50 feet of row or 4 lbs. for every 100 square feet is the right amount to use.

SUCCULENTS and BIZARRE PLANTS

The interest in bizarre plants is always great. The plant lover, eager to acquaint himself with new and unusual forms of plant life will delight in our collection of over a hundred varieties of tender succulents. The succulent family is closely identified with Cactus—the obvious difference being the absence of hard spines and a more fleshy appearance, such as the Echeveria. Outside during the Summer they can be employed as an adjunct to the rock garden. They should be potted up in the Fall and brought into the house where their odd forms of growth furnish a continual source of delight and interest. People interested are always welcome to come and see them growing in our greenhouses.

TENDER PLANTS

For Bedding

For lack of space we do not list all varieties of bedding or house plants. We have selected the more desirable ones—an inspection of our greenhouses will reveal many others of new interest and charm. Those marked (*) are most suitable for window boxes, hanging baskets, etc. Because of frost and climatic conditions we do not advise planting these out in the open until after May 15th.

GERANIUMS

The Geranium is yet to be replaced for all-round general use as a tender plant because of its hardy growth and continuous blooming habits.

It has been impossible for us to reduce the prices appreciably owing to the long period of time necessary for proper cultivation. The following have the best growing habits and are the most attractive varieties and colors:

ROSES

SOME NOTES ON THEIR CULTIVATION

Before planting, dig the bed up from 12 to 18 inches deep, incorporating an abundance of well rotted manure. When planting, insert the plant in the ground so that the graft is covered to 2 or 3 inches below the soil level, taking care to make the soil firm around the plant, leaving a depression around the plant to hold the water.

Roses need lots of water when dry and it is important to give the plants a thorough watering. Roses need an abundance of fertilizer. Bonemeal is very beneficial. However Vigoro, the prepared fertilizer is recommended because it is a complete plant food furnishing every food element the plant requires.

When syringing Roses, always do so in the morning and only when the sun is shining. This allows the foliage to become dry before the evening. Damp or wet foliage will cause black spot and mildew.

In the Fall, before the ground freezes, the Hybrid Tea Roses should have a mound of soil placed around the plants from 10 to 12 inches high. After the ground is frozen to a depth of 3 or 4 inches, the entire bed should be covered with salt hay or coarse horse manure to a depth of 6 inches. Hybrid Perpetual Roses do not require the mounding of the soil around them, but the covering of the soil with coarse manure or salt hay is beneficial for these also.

Our Roses are all pot-grown and can therefore be planted out any time without disturbing the roots.

We have about 40 of the best varieties, including the new introductions, and recommend each one for its habit of growth, hardiness, productivity and its color.

ANNUALS

INSURE continual bloom throughout the season.
DO NOT PLANT BEFORE MAY 15th.

Most amateur gardeners are without proper facilities for successfully raising annuals from seed. They require a great deal of attention and care which many are unable to give them. Our transplanted annuals have been grown in hot-beds from seed sown as early as March. A strong root system and earlier and greater surety of bloom is the result.

Whether used in the cutting garden, massed in beds and borders, or used in filling in amongst perennials for added color, transplanted annuals are indispensable. Annuals are within reach of everyone's pocketbook and we are anticipating a great demand.

HARDY PERENNIALS

Those marked with (*) are excellent for shady places.

Our perennials are all well established, pot-grown plants, and can therefore be planted at any time without checking growth. However, the best time for planting is in the Spring when they are starting to grow. Avoid planting in wet soil; it is always better to wait until the ground is fairly dry. Most perennials, although really hardy, should have protection during the Winter—care should be taken in covering them so they will not smother. A light covering of leaves, salt hay or straw is excellent, making sure the base of the plant is well protected.

Although perennials perhaps need less care than other plants, one will be repaid in the proportion of care he is willing to give them in the form of water in a dry time, working the soil, mulching and applications of fertilizer at regular periods.

LAWN GRASS SEED

HOW TO PREPARE A LAWN

Proper soil and a good mixture are the two essentials to be considered when making a lawn. Seed will be found to be the least expensive item. The first step is to break up the ground by ploughing or spading. Incorporate manure if available into the soil using one load to an average 100 square yards, keeping it well near the surface. If manure is not available, a commercial fertilizer such as Vigoro is recommended—5 lbs. to 100 square feet is sufficient at first. Ground in a shady place will probably need a light application of lime. Clay soils should have a mulch of leafmold or Driconure, which is a mixture of peat moss and dehydrated cow manure.

Before seeding care should be taken to rake the surface well by removing weed roots and stones and breaking up lumps of earth. The final step before seeding is to rake the surface until it becomes smooth and fine. Seed should be sowed according to the above chart after which it should be thoroughly rolled in.

Our formula contains a balanced proportion of the following grass seeds:
Red Top, Chewings Fescue, White Clover, German Bent, Kentucky Blue Grass

Area	No. Sq. Ft.	Seed
10x10.....	100.....	1 lb.
20x10.....	200.....	2 lbs.
25x20.....	500.....	5 lbs.
40x20.....	800.....	8 to 10 lbs.
100x20.....	2,000.....	20 lbs.
200x50.....	10,000.....	100 lbs.

For renovating lawns, one-half of above quantities is recommended

Burgevin Formula for Sunny Places

(Containing 10% Bent)

Tests have shown this seed to be ideally adapted to our climate. It is a special formula created after years of experience and trial. Containing no annual or quick-sprouting seeds that make only a temporary lawn, it is a mixture that actually improves from year to year. For its high quality this seed is very low priced and is equal to some brands that sell for nearly twice as much.

Finely granulated. This is comparatively a new product in itself. It has not much value as a fertilizer, but it is valuable when incorporated in the soil, holding moisture, and when decayed, as a substitute, for stable manure. We recommend it highly.

A Note on the Care of CUT FLOWERS and CONSERVATORY PLANTS

To prolong their life and fragrance, the stems of flowers should be cut off each morning when the water is changed. They should be placed in a cool room overnight with their stems immersed as deeply as possible in water. Rose buds should be sprayed with clear water.

Hardwooded flowers keep better sometimes if the tips of the stems are crushed. This allows them to absorb more water. Dahlias, after being cut, are sometimes plunged up to the flower in hot water and immediately taken out and put in cold water, thus allowing them to hold their heads up and keep fresh for a longer time. When placing flowers in a bowl never allow the stems to touch the bottom as this will cut off the necessary supply of water.

THE CARE OF PLANTS

All blooming plants should be watered at least once, and perhaps twice, daily, and their period of blooming will be increased if kept in a light, cool room. The leaves of any plant should be kept free from dust.

The cool days of Winter are cheered by pretty flowering and foliage plants; but while they are particularly fascinating at this time, it is during the coldest days that the plants require the most attention.

Never allow them to stand in front of an open window or in a cold draught. The intense dry heat in homes on extremely cold days will dry out the soil and wither or permanently injure most plants in a few days unless carefully watched and given water accordingly.

A good plan to follow in watering plants is to allow the soil to become dry or partially dry before watering and then repeating the process. Plants like Cyclamen and bulbous plants require a relatively frequent watering, while hardwooded plants such as Azaleas and Geraniums, a lesser amount is sufficient to their care.

—A by-word for flowers, and for more than that — for flower service for three-quarters of a century. More than fifty years ago we were shipping flowers by rail as far as Chicago. Today, through membership in the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, we telegraph flowers by order to all parts of the world—and ship direct to distances up to 250 miles. Inexpensive arrangements of special assortments and new varieties; flowers in memoriam, wedding flowers—all are available at prices that have always been unmistakably moderate.

PLANTING TABLE

The table shows the number of plants required to fill a circular bed of the dimensions given. In planting, begin outside row—where 6 inches apart, 3 inches from edge of bed; where 12 inches apart, 6 inches from edge of bed. It is customary among professionals in planting a bed to set the plants somewhat closer together in the two outer rows, giving more space between each plant towards the center of the bed.

A square bed will take about the same number of plants. For an oval bed, add length and breadth and divide by 2. For example, an oval 7 feet long by 5 feet wide will require same number of plants as a circular bed 6 feet in diameter.

WE GROW OUR OWN

Our plant consists of 35 greenhouses and nearly 200 acres on which our nurseries and dairy farm of pure-bred guernseys is located. Burgevin's flower shop and office building is located at the corner of Fair and Main Streets where a great assortment of flowers is always available for every occasion.

People are always welcome to go through our greenhouses—nurseries, and farm at any time. We are only closed for business on Sunday and holiday afternoons.
